Conference Focus

In the context of convergence, the 18th ICT Mobile and Wireless Communications Summit (ICT-MobileSummit 2009) will address the challenges of Future Ubiquitous Networks based on Mobile and Wireless Communications, complemented with Fixed Infrastructures.

The impact of such Future Networks on the underlying Internet infrastructure will continue to be emphasised in the 2009 Summit. Services and applications for billions of users involving trillions of interconnected potentially mobile devices will be addressed at the event, which takes place in the Historical City of Santander.

ICT-MobileSummit 2009 will bring together experts from industry and research to share experiences and research results, identify future trends, discuss business opportunities and identify opportunities for international research collaboration under the ICT Theme of Framework Programme 7 (FP7). It will thus contribute to showcasing European research in the field, and position it within the multiplicity of related initiatives supported in other regions of the world.

Event Profile

The ICT-MobileSummit (previously known as the IST Mobile Summit) has an international perspective, attracting over 600 delegates from 40 countries to previous Summits.

Supported by the European Commission and eMobility, the ICT-MobileSummit's reputation is based on high quality paper sessions that showcase original results in all areas of wireless communications systems and networks, including Mobile and Fixed, Terrestrial and Satellite.

The ICT-MobileSummit will continue to place a strong emphasis on the Future Internet.

While European funded research results are of particular interest, innovative research funded commercially or at national level is equally interesting from a community perspective. The participation of representatives of leading commercial, research and regulatory organisations in the Conference Community ensures a stimulating and high quality networking environment.
